

THE STAINED GLASS MUSEUM

COLLECTIONS FUND

Help us care for and enhance a national collection of stained glass.

We are launching a new fund to help us continue to preserve and develop our collection. As an independent museum, this financial support is essential for our future development.

Thanks to the support of donors in recent years, the museum has purchased a number of significant works by prominent designers including Harry Clarke, Wilhelmina Geddes, and Douglas Strachan.

Every gift to the endowment makes a direct contribution to this national collection of stained glass, helping to grow, care for and interpret these objects for audiences now and in the next 100 years.

Please support the museum's longstanding commitment to acquiring exceptional works of art by making a gift to the Collections Fund.

Donate to the Fund
